COMMON CORE TECHNOLOGY PROJECT OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE IS DISBANDED!

Board of Education President Dr. Richard Vladovic announced last week that he was disbanding the Common Core Technology Project (CCTP) Committee as of April. The committee has the responsibility to provide oversight of the LAUSD $1 billion project to provide iPads or laptops to every student, teacher and administrator in the District and is intended as a vehicle to allow the public to receive in-depth information that cannot be fully provided at a regular meeting of the Board due to time constraints. Dr. Vladovic was quoted in the Los Angeles Times (January 20, 2014) as saying, “I think there needs to be a conclusion of some sort.” While we understand that the establishment of LAUSD School Board Committees is under the purview of the president, one can only wonder why the oversight committee needs to come to a conclusion in the middle of the rollout. Why would it not conclude when every student has his or her iPad? What has necessitated this drastic move now? Even Board Member Mónica Ratliff, the chair of the committee, was surprised to learn that her committee was being eliminated as are we, at AALA, especially since some particularly pointed and relevant questions about the CCTP have been raised at recent meetings. Due to incomplete and often conflicting information being presented to the committee, the timeline of the CCTP has been appropriately slowed down. The committee’s work has also caused the inclusion of a more thorough evaluation of the project and a pilot of the use of laptop computers with older students.

While the CCTP committee has received criticism that it has provided roadblocks for what Superintendent John Deasy calls a superlative effort of what could be a national model, it has also been commended for slowing the pace of a too hastily implemented initiative. And even as there are lingering unanswered questions about whether the use of construction bond money for iPads is a legitimate expense, the Bond Oversight Committee (BOC) will have some limited jurisdiction of the CCTP as part of its many responsibilities. However, we question its effectiveness or influence since the BOC recently made some well-documented recommendations to the Board for the appropriate use of the bond money that were summarily ignored. We doubt that the same level of inquiry and oversight that was yielded by the CCTP Committee, under the leadership of Ms. Ratliff, can continue with this change by Dr. Vladovic.

Ms. Ratliff will become chair of the Curriculum and Instruction Committee that was formerly led by the late Ms. Marguerite LaMotte. While we are certain that Ms. Ratliff will do a commendable job in this role and know that her leadership is needed on this critical committee, we cannot help but wonder who will be overseeing the CCTP—or is that something that Dr. Vladovic and Dr. Deasy no longer think is necessary? We are currently in the process of securing an opportunity to speak with Dr. Vladovic to better understand his vision for Board Committees and oversight of the CCTP.

LOCAL CONTROL FUNDING FORMULA (LCFF)

As Governor Brown delivered his State-of-the-State speech on Wednesday, January 22, 2014, he expressed his vision for the Local Control Funding Formula. His comments included the following:

...This was a major breakthrough in the way funds are allocated to California's schools so that our laws explicitly recognize the difficult problems faced by low-income families and those whose first language is other than English. As a result, those with less are going to receive more and that is good for all of us. But something else is at work in this Local Control Funding Formula. Instead of prescriptive commands issued from headquarters here in Sacramento, more general goals have been established for each local school to attain, each in its own way. This puts the responsibility where it has to be: In the classroom and at the local district...Each local district now has to put into practice what the Local Control Funding Formula has made possible. That, together with new Common Core standards for math and English, will be a major challenge for teachers and local administrators. But they are the ones who can make it work and I have every confidence they will.

There are multiple guidelines and regulations that come with the LCFF, many of which are still being developed and will definitely impact administrators throughout the District. The article below, from the Chief Operating Officer, is just an example of some of the additional work that must be done. We know that each school must develop an Accountability Plan that is due in June and are eagerly awaiting guidance for administrators from the central office and the ESCs.

REQUIRED DATA COLLECTION FOR LCFF

ALA thanks Enrique "Rick" Boull't, Chief Operating Officer, for providing this information.

As noted above, the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) provides school districts with funds based on the needs of students, including English learners, foster youth and those who qualify for free or reduced-price meals. More money is sent to school districts that have higher percentages of these students.

In order to access these resources, LAUSD is required to submit each student's eligibility status for the USDA Free and Reduced Price Meal Program (FRPM). Although this information is already collected from many students throughout the District via the annual FRPM meal applications, there are approximately 138,000 students from 380 campuses for whom the District has no information.

Last November, the District launched an initial collection process to collect this vital information from these students. Thanks to the leadership of our principals and school communities, the District now has 80% of the needed information. There remain, however, approximately 27,900 (20%) students from more than 350 school sites, representing millions of dollars, from whom the District still needs information.

To capture the remaining information and maximize the District's allocation of state funding, LAUSD has launched a second and final collection period, which will last for 6 weeks beginning January 17, 2014, and ending on February 28, 2014. Participating schools should have received materials by Friday, January 17, 2014. To support collection efforts, the District has developed a LCFF Resource Site that includes a Principal Toolkit with sample parent flyers, message points, FAQs, best practices and parent letter templates. The District has also established a LCFF Support Call Center to address any questions or concerns regarding the collection process, 213.241.4133. EVERY FORM COUNTS! Every missing form means fewer resources for our classrooms!

HEALTH BENEFITS FAQ

TOPIC: 2013-2014 INFLUENZA (FLU) SHOWING ACCELERATED ACTIVITY

I'm healthy and seldom get sick. Why do I need protection against the flu?

The Los Angeles County Health Department announced that flu season has started early this year with the virus A H1N1 2009 as the dominant strain. Commonly known as swine flu, this same strain appeared during the 2009-10 pandemic and is tending to impact young, healthy adults more severely than other forms of the flu. The best way to reduce your chances of getting seasonal flu is to get a vaccination, wash your hands frequently, cover mouth and nose when coughing or sneezing and stay home when sick.

Against which influenza viruses does this year's flu vaccine protect?

Each year, a special CDC committee reviews data on influenza incidence and makes recommendations. This year's vaccine offers protection against three (or four) influenza viruses shown to be most common. They include influenza B viruses, influenza A (H1N1) viruses and influenza A (H3N2) viruses.

Who should get vaccinated?

The CDC recommends that everyone 6 months of age and older should be vaccinated, including: People over 65 years of age; those with high risk of complications if they get sick with the flu; those with asthma, diabetes and chronic lung disease; and people who live with and care for others who are at high risk for developing complications. Even though we are in the midst of flu season, it is not too late to get vaccinated.

Are there people who shouldn't get vaccinated?

Yes. People should consult their physician about getting vaccinated if they:

- Have an allergy to chicken eggs.
- Previously had a severe reaction to an influenza vaccination.
- Currently have a moderate to severe illness.
- Have a history of Guillain-Barre Syndrome.

I was vaccinated last year. If the protection is the same as last year, do I need another vaccination this year?

Although multiple studies have been conducted to measure how long a flu vaccine remains effective, there are no definitive results, except that effectiveness can vary from year to year and among different age and risk groups. The CDC recommends that everyone get vaccinated against the flu each year.

Are there potential side effects from the vaccination?

Yes, you may experience some minor side effects. These may include soreness, redness or swelling at the shot site, low grade fever and/or body aches. Keep in mind that the viruses in the flu shot are killed, so that you will not contract the flu from the vaccination.

Where can I get a flu vaccine?

Members of Anthem Blue Cross (EPO and HMO), Health Net, and UnitedHealthcare (formerly SecureHorizons) should contact their primary care physician about getting a flu shot. Kaiser members may walk into a seasonal flu shot clinic. Clinic locations are available on the Kaiser Permanente website.

Where can I refer families in my school community for flu shots?

LA County DPH Public Health Centers offers no-charge flu vaccines, with no appointments needed. Local pharmacies also offer flu vaccinations with varying prices.

To obtain additional information on influenza and flu shots, visit the CDC website at:
<http://www.cdc.gov/flu/about/season/flu-season-2013-2014.htm>.

ANNUAL POSTING REQUIREMENT OF WORK-RELATED INJURIES & ILLNESSES

California State law requires every District school and office to display the Annual Summary of Work-Related Injuries and Illnesses (Cal-OSHA Form 300A) in a conspicuous place where notices to employees are customarily posted. This form must be posted from February 1 - April 30 each year.

An online Reference Guide 5693.0, Cal-OSHA Log of Injuries and Illnesses, is available at www.lausd-oehs.org/docs/ReferenceGuides/REF-5693.pdf. It is also posted on Inside LAUSD and on the Office of Environmental Health and Safety (OEHS) website.

Please ensure the site-specific logs are posted at every school and office to maintain compliance and prevent Cal-OSHA from issuing citations. A completed Cal-OSHA Form 300A for each site may be downloaded at: www.lausd-oehs.org/OSHAform300.asp the last week of January. If you have any questions regarding the posting requirement or believe the information on the website is inaccurate, please contact the OEHS at 213.241.3199 or www.lausd-oehs.org.

*New this year is the requirement to verify the log has been posted on the Administrator’s On-Line Certification System. The due date for this item is also February 1, 2014. You may refer to MEM-6128.0 Administrator Certification On-Line System for additional information on this requirement.

INTRODUCTION TO AUTONOMY MODELS

The Local Options Oversight Committee (LOOC) is offering introductory sessions to those interested in the autonomy models of Expanded School Based Management, Pilot and Local Initiative. Attendance at a session is mandatory for a school to move forward in one of these models. The sessions will be held from 4:30 – 7:00 p.m. on the following dates:

- Monday, February 10, 2014, at the Beaudry Building, 19th Floor, Room 123
- Thursday, February 13, 2014, at Vista MS, Multipurpose Room
- Thursday, February 20, 2014, at ESC East Offices, Saldivar Room

Registration is required at LOOC Save-the-Date. For more information, please call 213.241.8700.

CALIFORNIA CHILDREN’S REPORT CARD

Children Now, an organization that bills itself as “the leading, nonpartisan, umbrella research, policy development, and advocacy organization dedicated to promoting children's health and education in California and creating national media policies that support child development” released its 2014 California Children’s Report Card which grades the state in twenty-seven categories related to the welfare of children in terms of public policy on education, health and child welfare issues. Each one is defined, measured and graded (A-F) to benchmark the past year and provide guidance for moving forward. The news is not all positive. Almost half of the State’s children now live in low-income families without access to high-quality preschool programs, enriching afterschool and summer programs and limited access to basic healthcare services. In fact, Ted Lempert, President of Children Now, said, “The declining status of kids in California is the biggest threat to the health and economy of our state...When you consider that California ranks 11th nationally in per capita state and local tax revenues, but is ranked well below the national spending averages on the fundamental health and education components of children’s well-being, there’s a very strong case for adjusting our budget and policymaking priorities this year.”

Research has shown that investments in quality programs for children more than pay for themselves in terms of increased earnings and revenues, a stronger overall economy and decreased costs for healthcare, corrections and other public expenditures. Below are the categories surveyed and the grades assigned:

ACADEMIC DECATHLON STILL NEEDS VOLUNTEERS

Volunteers are still needed for the Academic Decathlon competition on Saturday, January 25, and Saturday, February 1, at Roybal Learning Center, 1200 West Colton Street, Los Angeles 90026. On January 25, Speech and Interview judges are especially needed. If you are able to help on this day, please arrive at Roybal by 7:30 a.m. for an assignment. On February 1, volunteers are needed in the morning to proctor the written examinations and in the afternoon to proctor the Super Quiz Relay. If you can help on February 1 in the morning, plan to arrive at Roybal by 7:30 a.m. to receive an assignment. If you can assist in the afternoon, come to the Roybal Gymnasium by 2:30 p.m. for a Super Quiz assignment. Contact Cliff Ker, Academic Events Coordinator, Beyond the Bell, at 213.241.3503 or at cliff.ker@lausd.net if you have any questions.

Special Request for Retired Administrators to Volunteer: In addition to needing your assistance on the two dates at Roybal, there is a special need for readers to score student essays on Wednesday, January 29, from 7:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at Beaudry, 2nd Floor, Conference Room 202. If you can help read essays, please contact Cliff Ker at the number above. Validated parking will be available in the Beaudry II structure, Beaudry Avenue and Miramar Street.

BECOME A DOCENT AT LACMA

The Los Angeles County Museum of Art is now accepting applications to become a member of the Docent Council. Docents lead student tours of the museum and facilitate an exciting experience for young visitors. An art background is not required, just a desire to interact with school children and an interest in learning about art. The application deadline is February 1, 2014, and more information may be obtained on the website: www.lacma.org/membership/volunteer/intro.
